KUALA LUMPUR, May 31 (Bernama) -- Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak has assured all Malaysians regardless of race or religion that none of them will be left out of the mainstream of development.

Najib said that he was determined to be the prime minister who represented all Malaysians regardless of their race, religious belief or political ideology.

"As such, I will ensure that all progress enjoyed by the country will benefit all Malaysians," he said in his blog www.1malaysia.com.my in conjunction with the Pesta Kaamatan and Hari Gawai celebrations this week.

Najib also urged the people to continue to maintain the spirit of solidarity because peace and prosperity were the basis for national development.

"I'm most grateful because in this country, we can celebrate all kinds of festivals in a harmonious environment although the people comprised various races and religious beliefs.

"The spirit of racial solidarity in this country is most amazing and in fact, even the international community are amazed at the spirit of solidarity between our various races," Najib said.

He took the opportunity to wish the people concerned a happy Pesta Kaamatan and Hari Gawai celebration.
