KUALA LUMPUR, June 20 (Bernama) -- Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak today said that a knowledge society must be equipped with admirable moral values and attitudes in a bid to shape a distinctive society and nation.

The prime minister said having a knowledge society could also boost the performance and ensure prosperity in the country.

"Personally, I'm in the opinion that knowledge must be complemented with admirable moral values and attitudes. The combination of knowledge and moral values will shape the country to become a distinctive nation," he said in his Facebook page Thursday.

Najib said he agreed with the statement made by Johor Menteri Besar Datuk Seri Mohamed Khaled Nordin on the importance of investing through knowledge.

Recently, Mohamed Khaled reminded youth to continue mastering knowledge and skills in order to contribute effectively to the nation.

He said 'investing in oneself' would make youth more competitive and positive in their thinking, thus making them an important asset to the society.
