GOOD COVERAGE: Free afternoon edition only in peninsula

LEADING Malay newspaper Berita Harian (BH) yesterday rolled out its first afternoon edition to provide news on the 13th General Election.

The special edition, which will focus on issues related to the election, is available for free daily until polling day.

The newspaper, available only in the peninsula, will be distributed to the public at 3pm everyday.

Berita Harian group editor Datuk Mior Kamarul Shahid said the newspaper would provide indepth coverage of the election.

"Readers do not have to wait for tomorrow's newspaper to get the latest news on the 13th General Election."

About 160,000 copies were printed on the first day and the numbers are expected to increase.
