Pas Youth wants Umno-controlled TV3 to apologise for referring to Egypt's ousted president Mohamed Morsi as a dictator when he was in fact, voted in through a democratics process.

At a press conference in the Parliament lobby, the youth wing's leader Nasrudin Hassan said they wanted the news agency to retract and refrain from using that term when referring to Morsi.

"This is the same term used by the Israeli news agencies to describe Morsi.

"We feel that he is the rightful leader, he was ousted by the military after he was voted in through a democratic process. He won by a majority of one million votes," said Nasrudin, who is also Temerloh MP.

He added that Pas youth would be handing over a memorandum to the Information Ministry to urge them to take appropriate action against TV3.

Morsi was Egypt's first freely elected president after the fall of Hosni Mubarak but lasted just a year in power. - July 9, 2013.
