KOTA KINABALU, July 21 (Bernama) -- Young women with keen interest in joining the beauty and grooming industry must be prepared to work hard and be committed in their endeavour, said a local woman leader.

Kudat UMNO Wanita chief Datuk Aminah Ambrose said the industry held a bright future for the women but they must constantly enhance themselves with new knowledge and skills in the field.

"For instance, they should know how to display their bridal samples in such a style as to attract potential customers," she said while launching the Duta Sri Andaman 2013 Selection to choose the finalists for Mr and Miss Borneo 2013 at Suria Sabah here yesterday; the final competition would be held on Aug 18.

She also urged all parties to help maintain the state's wealthy cultural diversity for the next generation to take pride in.
