KUALA LUMPUR, Aug 21 (Bernama) -- It is imperative that women issues are championed in society and the workplace, notes Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak.

The prime minister said this in his Twitter account when commenting on Bernama's article headlined, 'Summit to Focus on Retaining Women in Workforce.'

Women leaders from corporate Malaysia gathered here yesterday at the 11th Women's Summit to deliberate on issues regarding the role of women in the workforce and the need to retain them.

The summit provided women leaders and participants the opportunity to share their experiences, voice concerns regarding the workplace, as well as put forward opinions on how their rights could be better enshrined in legislative, economic and cultural reforms.

It also aimed to empower women to take a stand for themselves, their hopes and dreams, their loved ones and their families.
