KUALA LUMPUR, Sept 28 (Bernama) -- Islamic-based schools in the country also play an important role in moulding a student's personality, former prime minister Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad said today.

He said to realise this, teachers at the school should make the Quran as their main reference in disseminating knowledge to their students since the early stage.

"We have to go back to the teachings of the Quran to educate the young generation to be successful.

"If we ignore the Quran and do not understand its content, it can cause us to deviate from the true teachings," he said in his speech at a dinner in conjunction with the 15th anniversary of the Malaysian International Islamic School here Saturday night.

Also present were International Islamic University Malaysia (UIAM) Tan Sri Datuk Seri Rais Yatim and its rector, Datuk Zaleha Kamaruddin.
