KUALA LUMPUR, March 7 (Bernama) -- Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak today said Malaysia needs to manage its finances for the future.

Najib said this in a Twitter post which carried a link to his blog, www.1malaysia.com regarding his speech during the National Economic Summit and Dialogue earlier.

Najib, in his keynote address at the half-day summit, themed "Moving the Malaysian Economy Forward: Getting to the Heart of the Matter", said Malaysia needs investments to prosper as they create jobs and develop the economy.

Meanwhile, in other tweets, the prime minister expressed his gratitude to all the women who have inspired men to be better as a person, a society and a nation.

They referred to the International Women's Day 2014 which falls tomorrow and will be celebrated throughout the world.

It celebrates the social, political and economic achievements of women while focusing world attention on areas requiring further action.
