Muslims should take advantage of the fasting month to inculcate the spirit of solidarity in fulfilling religious obligations, Datuk Seri Najib Razak (pic) said in his Ramadan message as reported by Bernama today.

The prime minister said Ramadan was also for Muslims to strengthen ties with Allah swt, and foster good relations with family members and the community.

"We have always waited for Ramadan. This is the time for us to take the opportunity to appreciate the sweetness of fulfilling our obligations to Allah swt," he said in his message in his blog on www.1malaysia.com.my.

Najib reportedly said the commitment to solidarity must be maintained with the sense of submission to Allah in an effort to turn Malaysia into a modern and progressive Muslim nation with a developed country status.

He also called on all Malaysians to take the Federal Constitution as a unifier and guide to harmony just as the "Sahifah Madinah" had united the multi-racial Madinah City residents in the past.

"Ramadan is a month for patience and calmness. A month that is full of blessings and forgiveness from Allah swt. Hopefully the blessings from Ramadan will be a catalyst for solidarity and prosperity to continue the national transformation mission," he told Bernama. – June 28, 2014.
