KUALA LUMPUR, Feb 27 (Bernama) -- The prime minister has asked the chief secretary to the government, Tan Sri Dr Ali Hamsa to investigate and act on the allegation that there is a school operating without complete infrastructure and the classes have no walls and are in a tent in Tuaran, Sabah.

Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak, in his Twitter account said: "TS KSN@AliHamsa55 investigate and take action to assist if true. This should not happen."

Najib issued the instruction in his reaction to the owner of the Twitter @saroki19 today after sending a picture of the condition of the school with the hashtag #SchoolWithNoWall to the prime minister.

Saroki19 published the photograph, one of which showed a classroom with zinc roof and steel pillar without walls and equipped with several wooden desks, plastic chairs, white board and wall fan.

Another photograph showed a classroom operating under a tent.

Another photograph showed a signboard with the wordings: 'Selamat Datang. Sekolah Kebangsaan Penimbawan, Peti Surat 130, 89208, Tuaran, Sabah'.

However, Saroki19 did not explain the photograph shown, the location of the school and the date the photograph was taken.

The prime minister made a one-day visit to Sarawak today and officiated several programs including laying the foundation stone for the Hospital Pakar Minor Sri Aman costing RM200 million, in Sri Aman.
