

#SULTAN: Sultan Nazrin Shah's Wisdom, Knowledge Bring Prosperity To Subjects - Zambry Bernama
May 6, 2015

KUALA KANGSAR, May 6 (Bernama) -- Perak menteri besar Datuk Seri Dr Zambry Abdul Kadir hopes the wisdom and knowledge possessed by the Sultan of Perak XXXV, Sultan Nazrin Shah would remain intact in line with his fairness, firmness and openness for the sake of prosperity of the people in the state.

He said the personality possessed by Sultan Nazrin Shah was in tandem with the traits of a reigning Ruler such as being close to the ulama, humble, concerned about the welfare of his subjects, and fulfilling the people's aspirations and being collaborative.

The hardship and poverty faced by his subjects had always been Sultan Nazrin Shah's concern, he said.

In his speech in conjunction with the enthronement of the Sultan of Perak XXXV, Zambry hoped the advice and wisdom provided by Sultan Nazrin Shah would lead the state government to discharge the trust placed by the people in the most sincere and transparent manner possible.

"Tuanku as the Reigning Monarch and I, as your humble servant, will offer advice on the actual developments occurring (in the state) without any false pretensions, and offer views on the goings on in the best possible manner," he said.

He also hoped that the cordial relations forged would not be marred by negative influences that could destroy the good relations between the Ruler and the people.

In his speech, Zambry also expressed the people's admiration for Sultan Nazrin Shah's stature in the field of knowledge that the people could emulate.

The enthronement of the Sultan of Perak XXXV, Sultan Nazrin Shah was held at Istana Iskandariah, Bukit Chandan in a ceremony steeped with tradition and culture of the Perak Malay Sultanate.
