KUALA LUMPUR, June 26 (Bernama) -- Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak today reminded the people to always remember the good deeds and sacrifices of members of the Malaysian security forces.

Through a podcast (audio file) which was uploaded onto his official blog, najibrazak.com, he said their good deeds in maintaining security in the country should never be forgotten.

"Members of our security forces are always ready in ensuring that we can all sleep soundly."

The prime minister also said that he felt so fortunate to be able to spend time during early Ramadan to break his fast with his wife, children and mother.

"But I also remember that members of our security forces are unable to 'berbuka' (break fast) with their family while on duty of looking after the country's security.

"Last Tuesday, I decided to break fast with our soldiers and while breaking my fast, I could see sadness on their faces as they were unable to be with their family while on national duty," he said.
