KUALA LUMPUR, Aug 22 (Bernama) -- Low Taek Jho or better known as Jho Low will be assisting the Malaysian Anti-Corruption Commission (MACC) in its investigations connected with SRC International Sdn Bhd, according to the businessman's spokesperson.

The spokesperson said in a statement that Low's representative would be contacting MACC to see how he could be of assistance.

In a one para statement, the spokesperson said: "Mr Low has seen press reports that the Malaysian Anti-Corruption Commission (MACC) is requesting his assistance.

"This is the first time Mr Low has been made aware of such a request. He has not received or been served any notice.

"Mr Low's representatives will be contacting the MACC to see how he can be of assistance," the statement said.

MACC director of investigations Datuk Azam Baki in a statement Saturday said that SRC International managing director Nik Faisal Ariff Kamil, SRC International Sdn Bhd director Datuk Suboh Md Yassin and Low had been asked to contact the commission immediately to assist in the investigations connected with SRC International.

He also said they were required to present themselves at the MACC Special Operations Division at Level 7, Menara Prisma, Precinct 3, Putrajaya and were also required to contact MACC officials.
