The Altantuya Shaariibuu case will continue to hang over Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Razak as long as there is no probe into the motive behind the Mongolian woman's murder, said Lim Kit Siang.

The DAP parliamentary leader said that even though Altantuya's murderers had already been sentenced to death, the case was unsolved because the mastermind and his motives remained a mystery.

"Najib must live with the reality that for the rest of his life, he will be haunted and hounded by the Altantunya Shaariibuu murder case so long as there is no full investigation to ferret out the motive and mastermind of the heinous killing," Lim said in a statement today.

"This has nothing to do with any international conspiracy theory whether involving the foreign media or otherwise, or to use Najib's own words, 'top to the bottom and inside and outside the country' allegedly to topple the country's leadership but because of gaping holes in the conviction of two former special commandos, Sirul Azhar Umar and Azilah Hadri, for Altantunya's murder."

He said the two had no motive to murder the Mongolian woman, since they did not know her before the murder.

The Gelang Patah MP added that ordinary Malaysians did not need an "international conspiracy to topple" the government to ask questions about the case.

"Malaysia does not have a high literacy rate – over 99% - for nothing.

"This is why the questions about the motive and whether and who was the mastermind for Altantunya's murder are on everybody's mind."

He said that Najib could never enjoy unquestioned respect, credibility and legitimacy from Malaysians and the world until an investigation was carried out to uncover the full truth.

Earlier today, Najib said the fact that the 2006 Altantuya case, as well as his alleged links to it, were resurfacing suggested there was a conspiracy against him.

This was after Al Jazeera aired a controversial documentary that traced the events leading up to Altantunya's death and the individuals that had been linked to her. – September 12, 2015.
