Maybe I will tell you that story in the next episode if I happen to be in the mood to reveal that story. And then at the same time you may even learn the identity of that mystery Chinese tycoon who I spoke about last year but never revealed his identity — the man who is behind both Mahathir and Muhyiddin Yassin.

THE CORRIDORS OF POWER

Raja Petra Kamarudin

Last year, Malaysia Today revealed that there are six Tan Sri behind the ANC (Anti-Najib Campaign) — Tan Sri MACC, Tan Sri BNM, Tan Sri PDRM, Tan Sri AGC, and Tan Sri DPM.

But that is only five Tan Sri. Most assumed that the sixth Tan Sri must be that chap from the MACC who met Sarawak Report's Clare Rewcastle Brown in Hyde Park in London and who was arrested together with the woman he was bonking — and who at the same time was bonking Tan Sri AGC (although not at the same time like in a threesome).

Actually, that Tan Sri from the MACC who met Sarawak Report's Clare Rewcastle Brown in Hyde Park in London was merely the mule, courier or carrier pigeon — sort of like an office boy. He was not even Malay like the other five Tan Sri. And for sure he was not one of the brains behind the conspiracy. And that was why he was arrested — because he had no brain and was not clever like the other five Tan Sri (although they cannot be that clever if I can expose them).

Anyway, many close friends contacted me and asked me to confirm the sixth Tan Sri and I told them that the sixth Tan Sri was Tengku Razaleigh Hamzah. “Tengku Razaleigh?” they asked me, quite surprised. “Yes. Don’t you know Tengku Razaleigh is a Tan Sri — Tengku Tan Sri Razaleigh Hamzah?”

Surprisingly, many either did not know or had forgotten because no one refers to Tengku Razaleigh as Tan Sri. He is known as Ku Li, just like Tun Abdullah Ahmad Badawi is known as Pak Lah.

Anyway, in mid-2015, Deputy Prime Minister Ahmad Zahid Hamidi revealed that a mystery man was going to meet Prime Minister Najib Tun Razak to reveal the existence of a conspiracy to oust him. This mystery man was also going to reveal all those who were involved in the conspiracy.

That same evening, the reporters rushed to Najib's house and waited outside for this mystery man to turn up. However, no one turned up so all went home disappointed.

According to Mahathir, Ku Li (that no-show mystery man) was behind the October 2015 move to pass a vote of no confidence against Najib in Parliament. It seems Ku Li was supposed to get at least 30 Barisan Nasional Members of Parliament to join the opposition Members of Parliament to get at least 112 votes.

But it did not happen. And the December 2015 vote of no confidence in the Umno general assembly also failed. Instead, Mukhriz was ousted as the Kedah Menteri Besar while Mahathir resigned from Umno. So, as Malaysia Today said earlier, it was game over and Ku Li knew it.

And that was why earlier this week Ku Li passed a vote of confidence in favour of Najib by launching his Kelantan Declaration. He knew that the ANC had failed and Najib was going to be around for some time to come. So he decided to change sides (like some of the other five Tan Sri as well).

Anyway, Ku Li's move to oust Najib did not start just in 2015, as many may believe. It actually started nine years ago back in 2007. And I should know because I was part of that movement.

Maybe I will tell you that story in the next episode if I happen to be in the mood to reveal that story. And then at the same time you may even learn the identity of that mystery Chinese tycoon who I spoke about last year but never revealed his identity — the man who is behind both Mahathir and Muhyiddin Yassin.

So stay tuned.
