KUALA LUMPUR, Sept 28 (Bernama) -- Malaysia is China's comprehensive strategic partner, said Chinese Ambassador to Malaysia Dr Huang Huikang.

Describing Malaysia as the trustworthy friend and reliable partner, Dr Huang said the two countries had been together through many challenges faced by each other.

"We are together during the 1997 Asian financial crisis and 2008 international financial crisis, Wenchuan's earthquake, MH370 tragic accident and Malaysia's East Coast flood ravage.

"We thumb up for each other when some other people chose to downplay our strengths and talk us down... We will always be there for each other in trying times," he said during his opening speech at the 66th Founding of the Peoples Republic of China Anniversary here, Monday.

He also thanked the support of their friends, including Malaysia that China was going to be the first host city of both the Summer (2008) and Winter Olympics in 2022.

"I am particularly happy to see the decision of the International Olympic Committee made in Kuala Lumpur on July 31, and the ski park invested by Malaysian Chinese businessmen will be the main venue of snow sports for the 2022 Beijing Winter Olympics," he said.

Dr Huang also said that China was fully aware of its international responsibilities and will contribute as much as it can to build harmony and prosperity in the world.

About 500 guests attended the event, among others were Works Minister Datuk Seri Fadillah Yusof, International Trade and Industry Minister II Datuk Seri Ong Ka Chuan, Deputy Home Minister Datuk Nur Jazlan Mohamad and Malaysia's Special Envoy to China Tan Sri Ong Ka Ting.
