The special task force set up to investigate the government investment arm 1Malaysia Development Berhad has never been disbanded, Inspector-General of Police Tan Sri Khalid Abu Bakar said today.

He said the police were awaiting the report on the probe by the National Audit Department on 1MDB so as to complete their investigation.

"The special task force has never been disbanded. It has been discharging its duty. We are waiting for the report from the National Audit Department. Our investigation will not be complete without that report.

"We must identify the offences to conduct the investigation. Our investigation will proceed so long as there is new evidence," he told reporters after an appreciation event by the Vehicle Theft Reduction Council of Malaysia Berhad.

Khalid was asked to comment on the statement by the Malaysian Anti-Corruption Commission (MACC) on August 5 that the joint special task force had been disbanded, and that the member agencies were operating on their own.

The task force comprises Bank Negara, the Attorney-General's Chambers, the Malaysian Anti-Corruption Commission and the police.

Khalid said the police often held meetings with the other members of the special task force.

"The meetings are not coordinated by the Attorney-General's Chambers. Nevertheless, we are still in touch with the teams of the three other agencies," he said. – Bernama, October 13, 2015.
