Datuk Seri Najib Razak today warned Umno members that the opposition coalition would reject the Islamic, Malay and Bumiputera struggle if they came to power.

"The political reality in Malaysia today is that the people only have two choices. Either a coalition led by Umno or another coalition led or dominated by DAP.

"Meaning, if Umno were rejected, this country will be ruled by those who are against the Islamic struggle, who reject the Malay and Bumiputera struggle.

"Disaster will befall us. Do we want to gamble the future of our children and grandchildren and Islam, aside from the current Malay and Islamic leadership?" the Umno president said at the party's annual general assembly today.

Najib said it was evident that DAP was trying to control other parties in the opposition coalition, citing as proof one of its lawmakers' announcement that it would contest in eight of PAS's Selangor state seats in the next election.

He said the situation was worse in Sarawak, where DAP had "arrogantly" cut off ties with PAS and PKR because it wanted to contest more seats in the Sarawak state elections.

"Clearly, DAP has never been as one with their allies. Let us think about it. If even forming alliances is so hard, how can it rule the country?" said Najib.

He said this was why it was dangerous for members to consider even a two-party system.

He also took a swipe at the DAP-led government in Penang, saying that the recent state assembly had seen a PKR assemblyperson break down in tears over how Chief Minister Lim Guan Eng was treating her constituents.

"Recently, at the Penang state assembly under the DAP government, PKR's Penanti assemblyperson in Permatang Pauh cried heavily as she thought of the fate of voters in her area, especially the Malays, whom she said were ignored and neglected by their own chief minister.

"So... look what happened... it was to that point. Thank God, in Barisan Nasional's history, for decades, no one has ever cried like that," said Najib. – December 10, 2015.
