Despite offers of reconciliation, Umno president Datuk Seri Najib Razak still needs to resolve the issues that have been brought up by his deputy, Tan Sri Muhyiddin Yassin.

Muhyiddin said these issues were not his own, but were ones that had been brought up by the public.

"It's good that the president said he is big-hearted but after this I want to know what are the steps he will take to resolve the problems that I have brought up," Muhyiddin told reporters following the closing of the Umno General Assembly at the Putra World Trade Centre, in Kuala Lumpur.

Muhyiddin has butted heads with Najib over how the latter, who is also prime minister, handled the controversies of 1Malaysia Development Berhad (1MDB) and the RM2.6 billion "donation" that was channelled into Najib's personal bank accounts.

Muhyiddin and Najib had earlier shaken hands at the close of the Umno general assembly, as Najib delivered his winding up speech.

Muhyiddin was axed as deputy prime minister from the Cabinet in July over his open criticism of Najib, but remains the Umno deputy president.

He has continued to speak against Najib, and on Monday night before the assembly started, addressed a crowd of supporters where he gave his harshest speech yet against the prime minister.

Muhyiddin sought the alternative platform after being barred from addressing Umno members at the assembly.

He said he remained loyal to Umno and earlier today said that he did not see any reason to apologise to Najib as the issues he had raised were not personal but involved the party and country's interests. – December 12, 2015.
