Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Razak is confident that the redelineation exercise in Sarawak will help the elected representatives in the state to serve the people more effectively.

He said this was especially so in areas which lacked good communication facilities and transportation.

"The Barisan Nasional is ready to serve the people in all areas in Sarawak including the new constituencies which will be gazetted on December 5.

"There will be 11 additional state seats in Sarawak, bringing the total to 82 from the next state election," he said in his latest Facebook posting.

The Dewan Rakyat yesterday had passed the bill on the redelineation which sees the number of state seats in Sarawak increasing from 71 to 82. – Bernama, December 3, 2015.
