KUALA LUMPUR, Aug 2 (Bernama) -- Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines have agreed to further explore the possibility of conducting 'hot pursuits' into neighbouring maritime waters as part of an effort to address current security challenges in the region.

The three countries would also look into a higher level of intelligence sharing as well as trilateral maritime security exercises in the maritime areas of common concern.

These points were contained in a joint statement issued following a trilateral meeting of the defense ministers of the respective countries in Bali today.....
