KUALA LUMPUR, Sept 28 (Bernama) -- A Dutch-led international team of investigators on Wednesday concluded that Malaysia Airlines Flight MH17 was shot down by a Buk missile which was brought from Russia to Ukraine.

Head of the Dutch National Detective Force Wilbert Paulissen said the Joint Investigation Team (JIT) found that Buk missile defense system was later transported back to Russia after the plane was downed, killing all on board.

"Based on the criminal investigation, we have concluded that flight MH17 was downed by a Buk missile of the 9M38-Series, which came from the territory of the Russian Federation," he told media conference in Nieuwegein, Netherlands.....
