BANGI, Dec 6 (Bernama) -- Diplomatic pressure on Myanmar should be intensified to enlighten the country about human rights in regards to the persecuted Rohingya minority, Global Movement of Moderates Foundation (GMMF) chief executive officer Datuk Dr Nasharudin Mat Isa said.

He said pressures through the voices of the people, in the form of rallies and consistent statements issued by regional country leaders and non-governmental organisations, were also needed to remind Myanmar to respect the principles of freedom of contract and human rights.

"Myanmar should be enlightened about these principles," he said, adding that it was among the universal values contained in the Langkawi Declaration and the ASEAN Charter, in which Myanmar was also subject to," said Nasharudin, who is the panelist at the Islam and Global Peace Forum organised by the GMMF at Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM) here today.....
