PAS president says that in politics, it is normal to have differing opinions but agree to work together on issues of joint interest.

MARANG: PAS president Abdul Hadi Awang has conceded that his presence at the launch of the artificial reef “Rig to Reef” today is the beginning of mature politics between the party and the Barisan Nasional government in the country.

Hadi, who is also Marang MP, also thanked Agriculture and Agro-based Industry Minister Ahmad Shabery Cheek for the invitation to attend the programme.

“The cooperation today (between PAS and UMNO) is mature politics, politics without any quarrels, politics that champion joint interests. In politics, one can have differing opinions but for any issue that involves joint interests, we must work together.

“In this respect, I thank the government on behalf of the fishing community for implementing a project that is most important and integrated not only for the fishermen, but also for the marine park that must be preserved in the best way possible,” he said.

He disclosed this to reporters after witnessing the process of anchoring the artificial reef at the Pulau Kapas waters here today.
