PEKAN, Aug 5 (Bernama) --Politics based on perception as practised by the opposition, including claiming that the coming 14th General Election would be the dirtiest election can confuse the people and disrupt the country's stability, said Puteri UMNO head Datuk Mas Ermieyati Samsuddin.

She said the same tactic was seen during the 13th general election when the opposition alleged that the government had brought in 40,000 Bangladeshi nationals to help Barisan Nasional (BN), which turned out to be an untrue statement.

"After it was proven that the allegations were untrue, they are now using the same tactic...trying to confuse the people with the same style, saying that the coming general election would be the dirtiest election.

"These are tactics which we worry would confuse and in the end, result in instability in the country," she told the media after opening the Pekan Division Puteri UMNO Delegates Conference here today.

Also present were Pekan UMNO Puteri head Malia Irdawatie Khairuddin and Pekan UMNO Youth head Datuk Shahrudin Ahmad.....
