BELURAN, Jan 25 (Bernama) -- Opposition party leaders are only good at harping on development issues in rural areas in Sabah merely to gain the people's support but unable to solve them, said Beluran Member of Parliament Datuk Seri Dr Ronald Kiandee.

He said opposition parties, which were usually only 'being active' when an election was held, would raise an issue that could attract the attention of the people only for the sake of their political interests.

However, Ronald said the opposition parties were unable to solve the problems faced by the people due to discord in their leadership.

"Opposition parties are not an option to solve the people's problems as their struggles are only for personal interests," he said at the gathering of the Leader with the People at Kampung Obah Paitan near here today.

As such, Ronald who is also Dewan Rakyat deputy speaker, reminded the people particularly in the Beluran Parliamentary constituency not to fall easily for empty promises made by opposition parties.

He said unlike the opposition, Barisan Nasional (BN) had a proven track record in developing the rural areas.

In fact, Ronald said the BN government remained committed in implementing development projects as well as providing basic infrastructure and amenities such as electricity, water supply and roads for the people in the rural areas.

The construction of the Paitan Water Treatment Plant and paved roads from Sapi Nangoh to Paitan also proved the government's continued commitment to providing basic facilities for the people in the Paitan District, he added.

Besides that Ronald said, a total of 70 multi-purpose halls, 37 mosques and 17 new churches had also been built in the Beluran parliamentary constituency.
