BERA, Feb 10 (Bernama) --Chinese voters are urged to return their support to Barisan Nasional (BN) in the 14th general election to safeguard their future and wellbeing.

Rural and Regional Development Minister Datuk Seri Ismail Sabri Yaakob said the plight of the Chinese community would not be championed if they continue to support the opposition.

"In the Triang state constituency for example, whenever flood hit or problems occurred, the Chinese community would seek help from MCA, Gerakan and myself because their DAP representative could not help," he said.

He said this after the handing over of contributions to 1,100 senior citizens in the Bera parliamentary constituency in conjunction with the Chinese New Year celebration at Rakan Muda Complex here today.

As such, Ismail Sabri who is also UMNO Supreme Council member, said the Chinese community should be wise in making their decision and avoid electing the wrong representatives in the coming general election.

Unlike the opposition, he said the government under Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak had implemented various policies to safeguard the welfare of the Chinese community in the country.
