SANDAKAN, Feb 15 (Bernama) --UMNO is on the right track in serving the people and contributing to the nation's progress, says Supreme Council member Tan Sri Musa Aman.

The Sabah Chief Minister said UMNO leaders at state and federal levels were always aware of the people's needs and had always ensured that their needs were fulfilled.

"We go down to the ground to listen and understand problems faced by the people. The government has implemented several development projects for the people but we are aware that much more must be done for the well-being of the people," he said during a visit to Tinoso district voting centre here today.

Musa said the Barisan Nasional (BN)-led UMNO government also has a good record in defending the interest of the people and in keeping to its promises, unlike the opposition.

He said the opposition parties in the state, especially Parti Warisan were going into the villages making various promises and slandering government leaders to win the people's support ahead of the general election.

Musa was convinced that people in the state were wise in making an evaluation on which party had performed well in championing their cause.
