I don't believe in saying nice things, I rather say what i feel and deal with it.

Davos, 2003

Malaysia belongs to all of us and is our joint responsibility, but if each section thinks only of its own right, the independence of the country will eventually be lost.

Kuala Lumpur, 1986

To Malaysian Youth, the Guardian of our Future

My hope is on the young.... I plead with the young generation, please learn and grasp every kind of knowledge to transform Malaysia into a developed country. Acquire all skills. Strengthen your inner character. Hold firm to religion and noble values. Reject corruption firmly. Inculcate truth, honesty, and justice. Let us work together and unite to create a bright future for Malaysia.

To Fellow Malaysians, A Prescription for a Healthy Body and Mind

- Maintain a healthy lifestyle - do not rest too much, always keep busy.
- Keep the brain active - always read, write, think and solve problems.
- Don't overeat – stop eating before you are full, no matter how good the food is.

To Malaysian Politicians on Leadership

- You must have guts as guts is scarce in this country.
- You must listen carefully to your people.
- You must communicate with clarity and conviction to your people.
- You must keep calm and lead on, even in the most difficult times.
