Acknowledgements

After completing my first book, Future FastForward in February 2005, I was exhausted but happy as the response was better than I had expected. I had no intention to write another book, though I had enough research materials for at least two more.

But the warmongers did not let up in their campaign to reconfigure the world, in particular the Middle East. One would have thought that after all the exposé regarding the lies that led to the illegal invasion of Iraq, people would wise up to the dirty tricks of the Bush-Blair war cabal. The same modus operandi was being employed in the preparation for the war against Iran and Syria, but the Malaysian mass media seem to be oblivious to the extension of the war to Syria and Iran. The Iraq war was no longer headline news.

The Malaysian mindset reflects a “brainwashed mind”, brainwashed for war, to accept the inevitable slaughter of the innocents in the coming months and years. Reading the newspapers convinced me more than ever that we need to change our attitude. I have no pretensions as to the impact of this book on the Malaysian psyche, but I do want to make a difference, no matter how futile it may be to some of my critics.

By early October, I had the basic outline for the book and plunged head on into further research, augmenting what I had gathered thus far. The next five weeks were “turbo-charged weeks” of intense concentration and focus typing with my laptop. In such a mood and environment, anything can turn the apple cart. But I was blessed by having a family that understood my intensity and the need for peace and quiet. Having a workaholic “messing up the place” is a real test of patience and tolerance, and there were an abundance of both. Therefore my thanks, love and gratitude goes first to my family, for being there. They gave me the silence that I needed so desperately, never intruding nor demanding my attention and time. Thank you guys, I will always love you. They understood and in silence inspired me.

Once again, Christopher pushed me beyond my limit. I couldn't have done it without your support. It was teamwork. It was a “wow” effort. Awesome!

To my editor, Mustafa Zubair, a very special wordsmith and a gentleman, my special thanks for the support and many fine touches, and putting the hours even during the Raya holidays. May God continue to bless you and your family.

To Paul Angel and his team again, from the American Free Press in America, you guys did another incredible job in the cover concept and creative artwork. You are truly an angel on my shoulders. Your support and dedication is much appreciated.

When my first book was published, many Muslims and non-Muslims came up to me and asked, “How come you got a Muslim to edit your book?” I was infuriated by these questions. Faith or religion was never an issue; our endeavours were for a common goal and that was reason enough for sharing. But it certainly does reflect the brainwashed mind of our society, and how so many have succumbed to the venomous propaganda of the war cabal which can only survive on the politics of divide and rule. How we live by labels! It is pathetic! We have to overcome this impediment if we intend to be a family.

As in Future FastForward, let me once again reiterate that the views expressed in this book are entirely mine and do not in any way represent those of the organisations, institutions or governments that I may be acquainted with. Any reference to any individual or organisation, directly or indirectly, is merely for the historical record.

Finally, I seek your indulgence and understanding for any errors that might have occurred during the printing process. Any error, if duly notified, shall be rectified in subsequent editions.

Publisher's Preface

Eight months has passed since the publication of Future FastForward: The Zionist Anglo-American Empire Meltdown. Although there were some criticism levelled at us from some corners, these were notably few and far between. They were mostly from pro-western establishment sympathisers who would pour righteous indignation at the author's aggressive approach in summing up his conclusions and forwarding his opinions, but who could only mumble unintelligible ramblings as refutation against the irrefutable mountain of documented evidence presented in Future FastForward.

This comes as no surprise to us, for these people have been fed no other information other than misinformation throughout their lives. They had formed the unfortunate habit of swallowing fictitious facts in popular dailies and the Zionist-controlled mass media<sup>1</sup> hook, line and sinker; who could not — or simply would not — recognise media propaganda for what it is; and thus to whom seemed the representation in Future FastForward a conspiracy theory of the first water!

However, we are more than glad that the book has been generally well received by the reading public. Indeed, many had expressed astonishment on what they had learnt from that tome of revelations. They are those who had the ability to differentiate between fact and fiction; who had the intellectual honesty to accept facts as facts.

And this brings us to this volume: Brainwashed for War Programmed to Kill. Despite the unfolding of the numerous lies that led to the illegal invasion and criminal occupation of Iraq by the US, the Bush-Blair duo of Zionist front men continue to terrorise the legitimate regimes of the Middle East, in particular Iran, by using the same stale lies of possession and manufacture of the kind of weapons which only the US and its allies may own (and use). The terms have been simplified since the decimation of Iraq, but the modi operandi remain remarkably the same. And yet, surprisingly, no one had as much as breathed a sigh of discontent, much less voice their opposition to these oppressive tyrants. The world remains indifferent while the power elites prepare to continue their killing spree!

The reason for this nonchalance among the masses is quite simple: we have been utterly brainwashed! To many, the harebrained lies and unfounded accusations of the Dynamic Duo are no longer convincing, and the US and its allies are clearly seen as opinionated dictatorial aggressors. Yet, we feel no sympathy for our fellow humans because we have been brainwashed to be unable to empathise with these victims of tyranny.

It is happening to some other people far away, it doesn't concern me, is the thought IMPLANTED in our collective conscience. But by remaining silent, we are aiding and abetting the murderers! By our silence, we are already complicit in the coming genocide of innocent peoples being planned by Bush and his Knights in the Oval Office! In short, we are killing them with our silence!

Human beings are so made that the ones who do the crushing feel nothing; it is the person crushed who feels what is happening. Unless one has placed oneself on the side of the oppressed, to feel with them, one cannot understand.

The above quotation of Simone Weil,<sup>2</sup> suffices to explain the reason for the publication of Brainwashed for War Programmed to Kill. It is truly an ardent attempt by the erudite author to deprogramme our programmed minds so that we regain our ability to look upon other human beings as we gaze upon ourselves and to be able to empathise with their predicament.

We must all — each and every one of us — free ourselves from the mental enslavement of the power elites, and become one with humanity at large; to recognise all human beings as a part of the divine whole and not by class, race, or religious differences; and to remove all subconscious notions of the GOYIM<sup>3</sup> from our mindset and to become TRULY HUMAN. As the great Saadi Shirazi<sup>4</sup> said:

All Adam's sons are limbs of one another,
Each of the self-same substance as his brothers,
So, while one member suffers ache and grief,
The other members cannot win relief;
Thou, who are heedless of thy brother's pain,
It is not right at all to name thee MAN.

In the following pages, the secret mind-control operations carried out by the Mossad, the CIA, the MI6, and other colonialist intelligence agencies are unravelled. Appended to the text are 14 must-read appendices which are historical documents on public records, published reports and intelligence manuals.

It is the sincere hope of the author and publisher that this work would serve to liberate the mental subservience of all the "liberated peoples" of the world from the Zionist imperialist powers so that we may at last attain TRUE FREEDOM.

Amen.

- 3 The Hebrew term "goyim" (singular, "goy"), translated as "gentiles" in English, actually means "nation" or "people". That, however, is only the etymological meaning. In the article, "Are Goyim Human?" by Michael Samuel, it is explained from an exegesis of the Jewish Talmud that this term also means non-human, for it is the belief of the Jews that each Jew has 3 creators: God and his parents; and each non-Jew has 4 creators: God, his parents, and the Serpent. So, when a Zionist Jew calls non-Jews "goyim", he is also calling them non-humans! We urge all readers to read this article @ <http://resistance.jeeran.com/judaism/articles/chabad2.htm>. I had often asked myself the question, since my student days when demonstrating against the war in Vietnam, the death squads in Latin America, the apartheid regime in South Africa and now the fascist wars against the Muslims, what must we do to get ordinary folks to come out to demand that political leaders who wage wars of aggression and genocide — the supreme crime — be tried and when found guilty, executed for war crimes?

It has been forty years and still counting, yet we are staring at the same problem, with seemingly no solution in sight. But there is a reason for this ostensibly insoluble difficulty.

The colonial powers exploited our people, plundered our economy and over the years, tortured and raped our men and women, massacred hundreds of thousands, and yet when we struggled and won our freedom, there was no accounting. As a people and as a nation, we were free and independent until we were enslaved by colonialism. When we broke the chains of enslavement, we were brainwashed to the extent that we were thankful and grateful to the British colonial masters for granting us “independence.”

The granting of “independence” by the colonial powers to the “native rebels” throughout the British Empire, when staring at the face of defeat, must rank as the most brilliant imperialist propaganda play ever to be conceived and executed.

It was not for the colonial powers to grant us “independence” but our birthright to reclaim it back. We won the battle to oust the colonial powers from our shores, the majority by legitimate armed struggle. Yet as victors, we did not demand reparations for the loss and damage suffered by our peoples. Instead, we prostrated before the “White Queen” to express our gratitude. There were even those who were so proud of having been conferred the OBE or MBE.<sup>4</sup>

Herein is the strategic difference between the mindset of the imperial powers (the British, French, Dutch, Portuguese, Spanish and the Americans) and the liberated peoples. Even in defeat, the British colonialist through propaganda warfare was able to turn the table on us and made us feel the lesser of the two. Brilliant! This propaganda strategy has been replicated by other colonialists post-World War II.

Countries which have “obtained independence” from Britain, on their anniversary date, celebrate “Independence Day.” Even the United States of America, whose struggle against King George’s colonial rule, called the American Revolution, still celebrates the fourth of July as “Independence Day.” George Washington led the militias to a resounding victory over the British military might. A bloody armed struggle! A more fitting title to the historic document, The Declaration of Independence, would be A Declaration of Freedom.

Let us recap what was declared in the first two paragraphs of that historic document.

When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the Powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, having its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. Such has been the patient suffrance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

The American people rebelled against the tyranny of King George III and seized power by armed struggle. But the US has forgotten their history and has assumed the role of the British imperialists. She is now the undisputed superpower and sole hyperpower.<sup>5</sup> Incredible!

Such is the power and legacy of British colonial rule and propaganda.

I can anticipate the reaction of my readers. Before you criticise me, have you ever asked yourselves the question, why should we be grateful to the colonial powers?

Let me use this simple analogy. Suppose a group of hoodlums came to your neighbourhood and stole the cars, wrecked the houses and injured several of your neighbours and members of your family, and they then demanded a monthly “protection money” in the form of a “local tax” which you paid over fearfully. And let’s suppose that this went on for several years until one fine day, the neighbourhood decided enough was enough and began to organise to counter the ruffians. The lot of you first went after the corrupt police force who failed to take any action against the hoodlums, and then went after the invading hoodlums. Faced with the overwhelming force of your entire neighbourhood up in arms, the hoodlums surrendered. Now, would you and your family then THANK THE HOODLUMS for the end to the bullying, humiliation and plunder; or would you DEMAND COMPENSATION for the loss you had suffered at their hands over the years? And, bear in mind that it is a given that had you failed to subdue those hoodlums, they would have exacted a heavy price for your audacity in challenging their might and authority. There would have been hell to pay!

Propaganda warfare, mind control and brainwashing are the subject matter of this book and the aforesaid discussion on “independence” illustrates succinctly the effectiveness and consequences of a well executed propaganda strategy. History has shown us how the British retreated from “direct rule” to that of “indirect rule” to maintain her stranglehold on her colonies. And although “independent”, nothing much have changed in the former colonies of the British Empire, as we are still trapped in the mental straightjacket left behind by the Brits! We still believe in their lies. This is almost obscene!

Mao Tse Tung said that “political power grows out of the barrel of a gun.” But this trite point was not the ideological invention of the commies, but the age-old adage of the imperialists and colonialists. The spice trade was always conducted peacefully by traders coming as far away as the Middle East and China. No one thought of monopolising the market by armed suppression to the detriment of the majority. No doubt there was economic competition, but it was conducted on a level playing field: that was until the Europeans came with their gun boats.

By military might and brutality they conquered, plundered and oppressed the people of the third world. Colonial political power came explosively out of the barrels of their then muskets, and now in the 21st century from depleted uranium munitions, cluster bombs, napalm bombs, missiles, M-16s, 50mm machine guns, etc.

Lawful resistance by armed struggle permitted under international law is demonised as terrorism, and the heroic resistance fighters labelled as “terrorists.” And we echo uncritically these labels! We are taught from an early age that in such circumstances, the better way is to “negotiate” for freedom. But history has shown that the colonialists were compelled to negotiate only when they realised that armed rebellion would be inevitable and that they would not, in that event, be able to impose “indirect rule.”

The British therefore brilliantly created the political theatre of the “independence musical.” From the earliest times, nations and people have always UNILATERALLY declared their political authority without having the need to seek from another authority for legitimacy, until the creation of “independence” by the British, as an instrument for indirect rule. Take the history of Malaya. The Sultans wielded their own authority, and presided over their kingdoms. Such authority was conferred by traditions and customs of the people. Through alliances and treaties, they may have merged their kingdoms, but they did not seek external conferment of legitimacy.

Like the creation of paper fiat money by the Federal Reserve System (and other central banks), the British by a simple stroke of a pen arrogated to themselves the power and right to confer “independence” to us “lesser mortals.”

Pause and think this carefully, do not react emotionally. Is this not the perverse logic of the colonialists? How stupid could we have been at the material time in history? Having confronted and defeated the bully, we then implored the bully to leave us be!

I challenge any historian to rebut my contention that the single most effective strategic propaganda tool of the imperialists for the mental enslavement of the “liberated subjects” was the act of “granting independence” by the colonial powers. The historic struggle and sacrifice of the people against colonialism is slam-dunked into the memory hole: that part of history is wiped clean and any heroic figures consigned to obscure footnotes. What I wanted to highlight here was the so-called magnanimous granting of “independence” by the colonial powers and, as Neill Ferguson, the British historian puts it, the benign and benevolent empire and how we have been “civilised” and transformed from tribesmen to loyal subjects of the Commonwealth! When the “White Queen” summons our services, we volunteer our brave young men to serve her cause in Africa and vice versa.

We have been brainwashed from an early age to respect the British Raj and his military might, his standards of justice and equity and his values, which keep changing from time to time as his military might ebbs and flows. The “British Standard” as applied to engineering specifications, production quality, etc., has its equivalents in international relations, trade and warfare.

My point here is that we have been brought up through the British mandated system of education to believe in the “history” as laid down by the system. There are two realities: one for the conqueror and occupier; one for the victims. I want you to commit to memory and then transmit to all your children what Thomas Friedman, an icon of the Zionist mass media, has said about this reality:

The hidden hand of the market will never work without a hidden fist – McDonalds cannot flourish without McDonnell Douglas, the builder of the F-15. And the hidden fist that keeps the world safe for Silicon Valley’s technologies is called the United States Army, Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps.<sup>6</sup>

This is a very different perspective of world trade, globalisation, etc., than the normal diet of clichés, headlines, and conventional wisdom which you find in your daily newspapers, business magazines and so-called research papers from think tanks which you so gladly consume with gusto. Thomas Friedman’s reality is grounded on the security interests of the United States and her allies and what is needed to ensure its protection. The other reality projected to us by their propaganda machinery is grounded on lies, disinformation, limited truths and half-truths.

A simple exercise will illustrate my point.

Let us take the cue from Thomas Friedman’s perspective. Name me a third world country or a third world multinational that sees the world in Friedman’s context: that when we invest in another country or trade with our neighbours, their resources are considered “our security interests” and our investments need to have a “hidden fist” for protection. Has any third world country ever despatched her miniscule army, air force, navy or special forces (if any) to protect its economic outreach? Thus, when we send our delegations to negotiate treaties and conventions, we are approaching the issues from two different realities and perspectives. Absent this basic understanding, we will in no uncertain terms be screwed. I am not surprised at all that after all the trade talks, from one city to another (Singapore, Uruguay, Doha, Cancun, etc.) there is but an impasse. What else can we expect?

McDonalds goes hand-in-hand with the McDonnell Douglas. Our roti canai<sup>7</sup> has not even ventured abroad, what more to be followed by a local gunslinger!

The status quo remains to the imperialists’ advantage. They have never stopped waging wars to further their economic agenda. But these wars, we are told, are for the cause of freedom, democracy and to defeat extremism and whatever “isms” they can invent. Right now the flavour is the “War on Terrorism” and “Militant Islam.” And we sheepishly accept such gobbledegook as rationale for wars without more!

Brainwashed!

In the inside cover of the book Bodyguard of Lies,<sup>8</sup> there is the following passage:

“In wartime” Winston Churchill told Joseph Stalin at Teheran in November 1943, “truth is so precious that she should always be attended by a bodyguard of lies.” Churchill’s remarks were more than a witticism. They were a description of another front in the war against the Axis, a clandestine war of deception and detection, a series of battles that may have had as much effect on the outcome of the war as the military battles they hid or discovered.

Let me assure you that the “truth” referred to by Churchill was far from the truth you understand to mean when this brutal war was waged. The “truths” that we were given, “to defeat fascism”, “to fight for a free world”, “to preserve civilisation”, etc., are in fact the

7 A perennial favourite dish among Malaysians, and dubbed by some as the Malaysian pancake. “Roti” is “bread” in Malay, and “canai” is a corruption of Chennai from where it originated.

8 Anthony Cave Brown, Bodyguard of Lies, (1977, Star Book)

“bodyguard of lies” to hide the REAL REASON for war: to secure the Zionists’ interests. Rabbi Felix Mendelssohn was very frank and direct when he said:

The Second World War is being fought for the defence of the fundamentals of Judaism.<sup>9</sup>

Chaim Weizmann, the then President of the World Jewish Congress on December 3, 1942 in New York City admitted:

We are not denying and we are not afraid to confess, this war is our war and it is waged for the liberation of Jewry ... stronger than all fronts together is our front, that of Jewry. We are not giving this war our financial support on which the entire war production is based. We are not only providing our full propaganda power which is the moral energy that keeps this war going. The guarantee of victory is predominantly based on weakening the enemy forces, on destroying them in their own country, within the resistance. And we are the Trojan horse in the enemy’s fortress. Thousands of Jews living in Europe constitute the principal factor in the destruction of our enemy. There, our front is a fact and the most valuable aid for victory.

To buttress this exposé, in my book, Future FastForward, I quoted in extenso the contrition of Sir Hartle Shawcross, who was the British Chief Prosecutor at the Nuremberg Trials and later Attorney-General. This is what he said:<sup>10</sup>

Step by step, I have arrived at the conviction that the aims of Communism in Europe are sinister and fatal. At the Nuremberg trials I, together with my Russian Colleagues, condemned Nazi aggression and terror. I believe now that Hitler and the German people did not want war. But we [Britain] declared war on Germany, intent on destroying it, in accordance with our principle of the balance of power, and we were encouraged by the Americans [Jews] around Roosevelt.

We ignored Hitler’s pleading not to enter into war. Now we are forced to realize that Hitler was right. He offered us the co-operation of Germany: instead, since 1945, we have been facing the immense power of the Soviet Empire. I feel ashamed and humiliated to see that the aims we accused Hitler of are being relentlessly pursued now, only under a different label.

This is one version of history which I am sure you are not familiar with. And why are we kept in the dark of this confession, coming from a man who was the British Chief Prosecutor at the Nuremberg War Crimes Tribunal? Churchill's "bodyguard of lies" ensured that we will never know the REAL TRUTH: — that as the lackey of the Zionists — he conned the entire British nation to wage a war for the Zionists and to facilitate the creation of Israel soon after the war in 1948.

At the very centre of this very elaborate deception is the London Controlling Section (LCS), a secret bureau set up by Churchill himself and located near his command post under the pavement of Westminster. Anthony Cave Brown commented in his excellent book, Bodyguard of Lies, that British "special means" (covert warfare) have a long history, longer than any other power — for over five hundred years her statesmen and generals had used them to establish first a kingdom and then an empire, and to defend both against their enemies. They had outwitted the Spanish, the French and the Dutch in previous centuries; and once before in this century they had been forced to fight the aggrandisement of Germany....

For those who have not been schooled in the art of psychological warfare, the ensuing discussions will seem to be flights of fancy, a good yarn. But let me sum up the issues raised in this book by the following two quotations which will be your guide in understanding THE OTHER REALITY — that of the imperialist warmongers. Read, understand and memorise these words.

The Soldiers Handbook 1869:

We are bred up to feel it a disgrace ever to succeed by falsehood... we will keep hammering along with the conviction that honesty is the best policy, and that truth always wins in the long run. These pretty little sentiments do well for a child's copy book, but a man who acts on them had better sheathe his sword forever.

Bodyguard of Lies:

It was clear that Churchill and the LCS would stop at nothing to ensure secrecy and surprise for Neptune<sup>11</sup>. Even Churchill's choice of code name for the cover and deception operations that would attend Neptune revealed something of their cunning, mercilessness and intent. Jael was the woman in the Song of Deborah of the Old Testament who committed one of the blackest acts of treachery in that long dark chronicle. For the Song tells how Deborah the Prophetess plotted with Barak, the commander of the Israelite army, to defeat Jabin, the King of Canaan, and Sisera, the Canaan commander who, with “nine hundred chariots of iron” had ruled the Israelites for twenty years. Their stratagem succeeded and Sisera was lured to battle at the foot of Mount Tabor.... “And the Lord discomfited Sisera, and all his chariots... and all the host of Sisera fell upon the edge of the sword; and there was not a man left.” Sisera survived and fled the battlefield on foot and as he was trying to reach Canaan he happened upon the encampment of Heber, the Kenite, who was absent that day. But his wife Jael greeted him cordially and believing that a treaty of friendship existed between the Canaanites and the Kenites, Sisera asked for food and a place to rest. To this Jael agreed, and exhausted by battle and his flight, Sisera lay down upon her bed. When Sisera was deeply asleep, she took a hammer and a tent peg and smote the nail into his temples, and fastened it to the ground.” Thus ended the Canaanites’ rule of the Israelites. And thus, it was hoped, would Jael help the Allies end the rule of Hitler.

Therefore to dismiss the ensuing discussion as a “conspiracy theory”, propaganda and or a fiction of the imagination is to remain in mental enslavement and in time total subjugation by the Zionist Anglo-American war cabal. Keep an open mind. Read the entire book and then decide whether to believe or not to believe.

A Century of Wars and Continuing...

We have about 50% of the world's wealth, but only 6.3% of its population.... In this situation, we cannot fail to be the object of envy and resentment. Our real task in the coming period is to devise a pattern of relationships which will permit us to maintain this position of disparity.... To do so, we will have to dispense with all sentimentality and day-dreaming; and our attention will have to be concentrated everywhere on our immediate national objectives.... We should cease to talk about vague and... unreal objectives such as human rights, the raising of the living standards, and democratization. The day is not far off when we are going to have to deal in straight power concepts. The less we are then hampered by idealistic slogans, the better.

— George Kennan, 1948<sup>1</sup>

There is nothing new about terrorism. What is new since 9/11 is the chilling realization that the terrorist threat we thought we had contained within tolerable boundaries was not contained at all, menacing our well-being as a people, even our survival as a nation. This realization stems, first, from the scale of 9/11, and beyond that, from the apocalyptic vision of the terrorists themselves. The chill comes from knowing that there are... hundreds and perhaps thousands who are ready to die in order to kill. They cannot be deterred. They cannot be appeased. The terrorists kill and will accept death for a cause with which no accommodation is possible. That cause is militant Islam.

The Economics of War Part 1: War is Big Business

“War belongs to the province of business competition, which is also a conflict of human interest and activities.”

— Karl von Clausewitz

Empire Capitalism<sup>1</sup> and imperial mobilisation can only be sustained by a war economy. And there must be wars to justify a war economy. Once we have grasped this essence of empire capitalism, we will be able to better appreciate why, when and how wars are started and who are the ultimate beneficiaries of wars.

Every day, in every hour and in every minute, we are being brainwashed for war and programmed to kill. First reaction: bullshit, another conspiracy theory; this is nuts! Think again. Read your daily newspapers and books on management and advertising and look out for terms related to warfare. Watch the movies and television programmes and the underlying theme is unmistakable: to glorify war by showing that killing is fun and by promoting the macho man image, such as that personified by Sylvester Stallone in the Rambo trilogy and other hardcore action movies.

In their ground-breaking book, Marketing Warfare,<sup>2</sup> the authors, Al Ries and Jack Trout dedicated their book to Karl von Clausewitz, who they consider as one of the greatest marketing strategists the world has ever known. It was an international best-seller that changed the mindset of the marketing profession. The cover boasts that American corporations are using military strategies to outmanoeuvre,

1 The term “Empire Capitalism” was coined by the author and first employed in his book Future FastForward: The Anglo-American Empire Meltdown (2005, Thinker’s Library).

outflank and even ambush their competition. The authors gave a riveting account of the Cola Wars, the Computer Wars, the Burger Wars and the Beer Wars. But we are not talking about Cola Wars here, but real wars that kill and maim men, women and children; wars that destroy the very fabrics of our societies by even more sophisticated and hideous weapons invented by the leading scientific brains employed by the best universities throughout the world.

Major General Smedley Butler, USMC got it spot on when he wrote War is a Racket<sup>3</sup>. He warns us way back in 1933:

War is just a racket. A racket is best described, I believe, as something that is not what it seems to the majority of the people. Only a small inside group knows what it is about. It is conducted for the benefit of the very few at the expense of the masses.

I believe in adequate defense at the coastline and nothing else. If a nation comes over here to fight, then we'll fight. The trouble with America is that when the dollar only earns 6 percent over here, then it gets restless and goes overseas to get 100 percent. Then the flag follows the dollar and the soldiers follow the flag.

I wouldn't go to war again as I have done to protect some lousy investment of the bankers. There are only two things we should fight for. One is the defense of our homes and the other is the Bill of Rights. War for any other reason is simply a racket.

There isn't a trick in the racketeering bag that the military gang is blind to. It has its "finger men" to point out enemies, its "muscle men" to destroy enemies, its "brain men" to plan war preparations, and a "Big Boss" Super-Nationalistic-Capitalism.

This observation coming from a major-general should grab your attention. A soldier who has spent more than thirty-three years in military service has condemned war as a racket, but today, as in the past, we accept without question the warmongering of cowards, who during the Vietnam War sought refuge in the safety of the National Guards and academia, that wars are necessary to bring freedom and democracy to the third world, in particular the people in the Middle East. It is ironic that those who advocate wars, the members of the Neocon war cabal, have neither served in the military nor volunteered the services of their children to the frontlines.

War is big business. Retired US Admiral Gene La Rocque remarked, "Military product is manufactured primarily not for the defence of the USA or of any other country but merely for profit.”<sup>4</sup> A quick examination of some economic figures will substantiate the fact that war is indeed a racket that benefits essentially, the small elite of bankers and vested interests.

The Brookings Institution’s US Nuclear Weapons Cost Study Project<sup>5</sup> which was completed in 1998 has revealed some interesting data.

1. The cost of the Manhattan Project: US$20 billion.
2. Total number of missiles built: 67,500.
3. Estimated constructions for more than 1,000 ICBM launch pads and silos, support facilities: US$14 billion.
4. Total number of nuclear bombs built: 4,680.
5. Peak number of nuclear warheads and bombs in the stockpile/year: 32,193 in 1996.
6. Total number and types of nuclear warheads and bombs built — 1945 till 1990 — more than 70,000 and there were 65 different types.
7. Number of nuclear warheads requested by the Army in 1956/57: 151,000.
8. Number of designated targets for US weapons in the Single Integrated Operational Plan (SIOP) in 1976: 25,000; 1986: 16,000 and 1995: 2,500.
9. Projected operational US strategic warheads and bombs after full enactment of the Strategic Offensive Reduction Treaty in 2012: 1,700 – 2,200.
10. Additional strategic and non-strategic warheads not limited by the treaty that the US military wants to retain as a “hedge” against unforeseen future threats: 4,900.
11. Fissile material produced: 104 metric tons of plutonium and 994 metric tons of highly enriched uranium.

12. Total known land area occupied by US nuclear weapons bases and facilities: 15,654 square miles.
13. Number of secret Presidential Emergency Facilities built for use during and after a nuclear war: more than 75.
14. Volume of cubic meters of radioactive waste material resulting from weapons activities: 104,000,000.
15. Number of US nuclear bombs lost in accidents and never recovered: 11.
16. Estimated 1998 spending on all US nuclear weapons and weapons-related programs: US$35.1 billion.

If war was good business way back then, it is generating super profits today for the defence industry big boys. The fiscal 2006 defence budget<sup>6</sup> of the United States is set to climb to US$441 billion, a whopping increase of US$21 billion over 2005. There is a provision of another US$50 billion for the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. The US Congress plans to approve US$79 billion for weapons procurement and US$69 billion for military research and development. The leading beneficiaries for this war expenditure are: Lockheed-Martin, Boeing, Northrop-Grumman, Raytheon, General Dynamics, Honeywell and United Technologies.

Lockheed-Martin, the biggest US defence contractor made US$830 million in profits in the first six months of 2005, a massive jump of 41 percent as compared to the previous year. Projected sales for 2005 is up US$38 billion and has orders worth another US$73 billion. Lockheed produces the F-16 Fighting Falcon, the C-130J Super Hercules, the stealth fighter F-117 Nighthawk and F/A 22 Raptor.

Boeing saw sales up 8 percent to US$27 billion and its military division posted an increase in profits of 16 percent to US$1.7 billion. Boeing is also involved in the development of Future Combat Systems (FCS), a US$125 billion project that will allegedly enhance the effectiveness of US soldiers in the battlefield with new very high-tech equipment and communications systems.

Northrop is responsible for developing advanced information technology systems which will enable weapons system to be more efficient. It developed the Kinetic Energy Interceptors Missile Defense

Battle Management Capabilities (KEI).<sup>7</sup> KEI is a mobile, land-based missile defence system that when deployed will be able to destroy an incoming hostile threat during its ascent phase of flight. Northrop has also been selected as the lead system integrator for unmanned ground vehicles under the US Army's Family of Integrated Rapid Response Equipment (FIRRE) program. FIRRE is intended to provide a soldier with a variety of modular force protection equipment including unmanned air, ground and undersea platforms for sensors, weapons and support equipment.<sup>8</sup> The company is also developing the high-power chemical laser component of MDA's Airborne Laser (ABL) program and is the contractor for the Mobile Tactical High-Energy Laser. In 2004, earnings rose from US$534 million to US$776 million.

General Dynamics is another big player employing over 70,000 people worldwide and in 2004 had revenues exceeding US$19 billion. The company is responsible for rockets that can be fired from a variety of rotary and fixed platforms that include, among others, US Apache and US Marine Corps Cobra attack helicopters.<sup>9</sup>

Raytheon is a leader in missile defence systems, from surveillance to BMC3, to interceptors and kill vehicles. The company is the prime contractor for the Patriot Weapon System used in the Gulf Wars and the kinetic warhead for the sea-based Aegis Ballistic Missile Defense program.<sup>10</sup> In the first half of 2005, sales rose by 8 percent to US$10.4 billion.

Special mention must be made of two US companies, namely Bechtel and Halliburton. Defence experts have characterised Bechtel as "more powerful than the US army." George Schultz, the former Secretary of State and CEO of Bechtel played a crucial role in pushing for the invasion of Iraq and was rewarded with an exclusive no-bid contract for the reconstruction of Iraq. Is it any wonder that the Bush war cabal was so determined to destroy the entire infrastructure of Iraq, as obviously there can be no reconstruction without destruction? Bechtel reported record profits for fiscal years 2003 and 2004, amounting to US$17 billion and US$17.4 billion respectively. It should be noted that Bechtel has close ties with the Saudi-based bin Laden family.

BRAINWASHED FOR WAR

The Companion to FUTURE FASTFORWARD

"Today the world is the victim of propaganda because people are not intellectually competent. More than anything, the United States needs effective citizens competent to do their own thinking."

—William Mather Lewis

In a continuing effort by the best-selling author of Future Fastforward, the erudite scholar of political intrigue and conspiracy, Matthias Chang, sets forth the modus operandi of the Zionist masterminds to brainwash and program the minds of the peoples of the world to achieve their goal of global domination. Tracing back four decades and more, Brainwashed for War Programmed to Kill documents atrocities carried out by the forces of imperialism to subjugate the citizens of the world.

Replete with documentary evidence, the volume exposes the vile propaganda warfare, mind-control and brainwashing operations carried out by some of the most powerful clandestine intelligence agencies in the world—which includes Israel's Mossad, the CIA and the MI6—and how these operations have come to impact our lives today.

Included in this opus of veritable knowledge for our future true independence and freedom are 14 appendices containing historical speeches and literature, declassified top secret documents and intelligence doctrines—of which all but three are reproduced in full—amounting to 200 pages of arduously researched must-read background information!

Matthias Chang is a Chinese Catholic and a barrister of 31 years who once served as the political secretary to former Malaysian Prime Minister Tun Dr. Mahathir Mohamad. It is the earnest desire of the author that the people of America wake up to the reality of our calamitous situation to become one with humanity at large; to recognize all human beings as a part of the divine whole (not by class or religious differences) and to free themselves from the mental enslavement of the imperialist power elites.
